FLOAT FUND IN NEED OF MONEY

DEFICIT OF ABOUT $450 WILL BE CLEARED; NO BILLS TO REMAIN UNPAID

PEOPLE TO RESPOND

PRIZE WINNING DISPLAY IS TO BE CLEARED OF EVERY CENT'S INDEBTEDNESS

Financial matters in connection with the city of Glendale's float, which was awarded first prize at the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena on New Year's day, were considered at a meeting of the float committee held at the city hall last night, with R. F. Kitterman, chairman, presiding.

Bills thus far presented were checked over, those yet to come in were estimated and the committee announced that it is facing a deficit of about $450. As a result, some of those who subscribed to the float fund have already decided to increase their subscriptions, while those who did not contribute will, no doubt, be glad of the opportunity to do so now.

The Evening News, while the fund was being raised, published daily a list of the subscriptions, and the total, when turned over to the committee, was a little more than $1,000, which was the minimum amount previously fixed by the committee as being sufficient for which a creditable float could be secured.

Cost of Flowers Is Big Item

But when the committee began the actual construction of the float, the amount of flowers necessary—and their cost—proved even more than at first estimated, although the subcommittee in charge of the securing of the flowers gave warning that prices were high and that there was a shortage. The general committee, however, realized that there was but one thing to do—that was to complete the float and see to it that it made a creditable showing for Glendale. This was done—and the float took first prize over displays made by other cities that had expended more than double the amount of Glendale.

One of the reasons why Glendale won first prize was because of the profusion and excellence of the flowers on the float, this being one of the big requirements of the judges' scoring card. Members of the flowers' committee canvassed local and

CLASS HOSTESS

MRS. CLARENCE KALBAUGH OF 526 WEST DORAN STREET, ENTERTAINS MEMBERS

Mrs. Clarence Kalbaugh, 526 West Doran street, was hostess yesterday afternoon to the ladies of the R. T. W. class of the Baptist church.

Mrs. Doxsee, teacher of the class, spoke to the ladies for a short time on the work outlined for the new year and read to them a beautiful conception of what their work as members of the class should mean. Her selection of devotionals was thoroughly in harmony with the ideal she wished to convey to the class.

The business session disclosed the names of the new officers of the class for the coming year. Mrs. Charles Jewsbury is president. After the discussion of several other business matters, the class turned to the social side of the afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Hoskings entertained with a piano solo, Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Jewsbury with readings. A special treat was the address of Mrs. Henry Rae of the Cosmopolitan Mission, Los Angeles. Mrs. Rae is a charming woman with an equally charming little daughter, who contributed her share to the afternoon's entertainment by singing in her pretty baby fashion two little songs, one in English, the other in Italian.

A satisfying collation of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served by the refreshment committee.

CAUGHT IN SCHEME TO ROB

MARINETTE, Wis.—Two gypsy maidens, from a caravan camped near here, were foiled in an attempt to rob the Farmers' Savings and Trust bank. While the attention of the cashier was diverted by one of the girls, who was telling his fortune, the other grabbed a roll of bills containing more than $500 and fled. The assistant cashier, Leslie Eggleston, seized the second girl before she could reach the street.

Large Almond Tree In Mrs. William Porter's Yard Now In Blossom

Several days ago an item appeared in The Evening News relative to an almond tree which was in bloom on the McNutt ranch in Sycamore canyon. Mrs. McNutt remarked "Can you beat this?"

The Evening News believes it has found something which, at least, will equal it. A large almond tree, covered with blossoms, on Mrs. William Porter's property at 923 North Brand boulevard is attracting considerable attention.

It is rather unusual to see the trees in bloom so early in the year, the blossoms not appearing usually until February.

Loses Left Hand As Result Of Explosion Of Blasting Material

C. H. Allison, 142 Hillside drive, received very severe injuries late yesterday resulting from an explosion of oil mining dynamite with which he was experimenting. He was taken to the Glendale sanitarium last evening, where it was found necessary to amputate his left hand, his right hand having received only minor injuries.

Mr. Allison is an inventor and was experimentng with oil mining dynamite, trying to perfect this particular type of blasting material, when the accident occurred.

Thug Masquerading As Old And Feeble Woman In Successful Robbery

A bandit, masquerading as an aged and feeble woman, today robbed Mrs. John N. Carson, head of the nursing division of the Pasadena health department, of $110, jewels and other personal effects valued at several hundred dollars, according to her report to the sheriff's office. The hold-up took place in Eagle Rock road, near Pasadena. Mrs. Carson was driving alone in her automobile. The robber, who shed his disguise after ordering her to drive away, carried a revolver.

INSTALLATION

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS TO PLACE THEIR OFFICERS IN CHAIRS NEXT TUESDAY

Ladies of Mary Jane Gillette Tent No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, are deep in plans for a public installation of officers on the evening of Tuesday, January 11, at Hurtt's hall, East Broadway.

Department President Fannie Medlar and her staff will officiate and the Tent anticipates a good attendance, not only of its own members, but also of outside friends who will be interested in witnessing the ceremonials of the installation, which is said to be a very pretty one.

Officers to be installed are Cora Jones, president; Charlotte McKee, senior vice-president; Pearl Moore, junior vice-president; Susie Peck, chaplain; Audry Hall, treasurer; Mae Burlingham, patriotic instructor; Olive Pixley, Agnes Richardson and Annie Miller, members of the council; Irene Gervais, Ruth Spafford, Mildred McKee and Marjorie Gunyon, color bearers; Winona Crawford, guide; Gertrude Griffin, press correspondent; Hattie Tiffany, secretary; Queen Danner, musician; Ruth Bullock, guard; Alda Gervais, assistant guard.

CLOVER TEN FEET HIGH

AMES, Iowa—Clover ten feet high has been grown by C. E. Honkomp of Ashton, Iowa, from seed discovered by accident by the Iowa state agricultural college in 1916, and developed there for distribution. Another Iowan who grew clover from the same seed had stalks nine feet tall, that had to be propped up to keep them from breaking with the weight of blossoms and bees.

PROTESTANTS TO VISIT TRUSTEES

OPENING COMMERCIAL STREET TO BE FOUGHT AT BOARD MEETING THURSDAY

LEAGUE IN ACTION

ORGANIZATION TO GET LEGAL AID IF ORDINANCE BE ADOPTED, IS PLAN

With more than 100 property owners present, the West Glendale Protective league held a meeting in the auditorium at the high school last night and, after discussion of the proposed opening of Commercial street, definitely decided that:

A committee of five be appointed to secure an attorney to take the necessary legal action to prevent, if possible, the carrying out of the work as contemplated by a majority of the board of city trustees, and, further, for the committee to act as it deems best to stop the proposed opening of the street.

A full attendance of property owners in the proposed assessment district is absolutely necessary at the meeting of the city trustees on next Thursday night at the city hall, when the ordinance ordering the work will come up for final passage.

Members of the league, during the discussion last night, took the position that, since investigation by a committee has shown the board of trustees has obtained jurisdiction over the work and the time for a legal petition of protest has passed, but two things are left to do. One is to secure an attorney and, if the ordinance is finally adopted, get out an injunction and throw the question into the courts, and the other is to make an informal protest, by the presence of a large number of property owners from the proposed assessment district at the trustees' meeting Thursday night when the ordinance comes up for final passage, in the hope the trustees will realize the opening of the street is not desired by a majority of those in the district and so vote the ordinance down.

Committee of Five Is Named

In the absence through illness of Isabel Barrett, chairman of the league, J. Mac MacMillan, vice-chairman of the organization, presided. He reported for the committee previously appointed to secure facts and figures on the proposed improvement. He announced that there are 1160 lots in the proposed district and gave tentative estimates of the probable cost of the

MR. AND MRS. DAVID DONWELL, FORMERLY OF SHERMAN, LOCATE IN GLENDALE

Among the newcomers attracted to Glendale are Mr. and Mrs. David Donwell, of Sherman, who, recognizing the advantages of this city as a home site and its opportunities for business, have decided to locate here.

Mr. Donwell has purchased from H. L. Hock, through the Hart Realty company, the property at 123 North Glendale avenue. He will, in the near future, open a first-class meat market and fruit and vegetable store at the above address.

PLAN NEW HOME

MR. AND MRS. R. J. GLEASON TO BUILD FOUR ROOM HOUSE AT 1312 E. CALIFORNIA

R. J. Gleason and wife, who recently moved into their new garage at 1312 East California avenue, yesterday took out a permit for the erection of a four-room residence on the front of the lot to cost $3000.

SMALL RESIDENCES

MANUFACTURING PLANT WILL CONSTRUCT SMALL HOMES CLOSE TO FACTORY

The Fred L. Meneley Co., which is putting up a big manufacturing plant on acreage at Vine avenue and Southern Pacific tracks yesterday took out permits for two two-room residences to be erected near the factory buildings.

BETTER SERVICE FOR GRAND VIEW

PUBLIC MEETING TO BE HELD TO DISCUSS EXTENSIONS OF WATER SYSTEM

NEW SUB-DIVISIONS

MORE TERRITORY TO COME IN CITY IS BELIEF EXPRESSED BY PROPERTY OWNERS

Acting under authorization given him by the board of city trustees, T. W. Watson, city manager, is making arrangements to call a meeting of property owners and residents in the Grand View district for the purpose of discussing the extension of the water distribution system in that territory, as well as discussing other matters of service that may be rendered by the city of Glendale.

W. E. Evans, formerly city attorney, states that a number of property owners in territory north of West Kenneth road are anxious to come into the city and he suggests that the proposed meeting also include an invitation to those residents, so that annexation may also be discussed.

Mr. Evans states that Alex Mitchell, Arthur and Dan Campbell and a number of others just outside the city limits are willing to be annexed.

It is understood that several large sub-divisions will be opened just as soon as the territory is brought into the city.

Water and Light Service

"As we understand it," said City Manager Watson, in his statement to the trustees relative to asking permission to call a meeting in the Grand View territory, "all of the questions that were raised as to the legality of the Grand View annexation proceedings have been settled in favor of annexation and that district is now officially a part of the city of Glendale.

"It is now over two years since the people of that section voted in favor of annexation to the city of Glendale. The principal object of this move on the part of the people

EASTERN RESIDENTS COME TO SOUTH FOR VISIT; DECIDE TO STAY PERMANENTLY

P. M. Lawson, of Homestead, Pa., and Harry L. Campbell, of Pittsburg, came out to Hollywood for a visit, fully intending to return to their eastern home.

All they knew of Glendale was that it was on the map, but, being enterprising young fellows, they thought they'd see for themselves what there was to it. So they came to Glendale, and are at present domiciled at 214 East Chestnut street.

Now, when any one asks them when they are going home, they reply decidedly: "This is our home; we're going to stay in Glendale." Then, boldly parodying Tennyson, they add:

"We will return no more;
The climate in our Pennsylvania home
Is surely something fierce; we will no longer roam."

It is probable that Messrs. Lawson and Campbell will open a garage in this city.

HOLD CARD PARTY

FIFTEEN TABLES ARRANGED AT SOCIAL GATHERING GIVEN AT WHITE INN

Ladies of the Church of the Holy Family were hostesses last evening at a social and card party at the White Inn.

There were fifteen tables of cards. Whist and five hundred were the games enjoyed and the first prizes were won by Mrs. G. E. Jones, West Sixth street, North Glendale, and John Schick, 321 East Maple street.

Miss E. Buechler, 916 North Central avenue, was the fortunate winner of a handsome scarf. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served and music and social chat were enjoyed by those not playing cards.

Weather Forecast

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5—The official weather forecast is: Cloudy tonight and Thursday.

ENTIRE PARTY IS KILLED OR CAPTURED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—Crown forces won big advantages in two attacks upon them by Sinn Feiners today, according to reports here. For the first time employing a smoke barrage when ambushed, a military party so confused the Sinn Feiners that the entire attacking party either was killed or captured. The raid occurred at Kanturk. The city of Cork, meanwhile, was breathless, fearing reprisals for a Sinn Fein bomb attack on a party of police. Six police were wounded and a like number of civilians were injured in the prompt rifle and machine gun fire of officers from a nearby police station.

NEW EUROPEAN WAR IS BEING PREDICTED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Jan. 5.—The Russian government is planning a spring drive into Roumania and Galicia, according to military experts here today. Recent developments along the western frontier of Russia convinced critics that the Soviet army will drive into those territories when weather permits. A new European war, with the various nations dragging and toppling one another into the fighting, was seen as a possible consequence. The Russian army, still mobilized, is eager for a continuation of its successful campaign against General Wrangel at the close of 1920.

POSSE SEARCHING FOR TRAIN WRECKERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, Ga., Jan. 5.—A posse lead by bloodhounds today searched swamps around Rome in an effort to capture the persons alleged to have made a deliberate attempt to wreck train No. 3, crack Ohio special, southbound, on the Southern railway. The heavy train, with two engines and thirteen coaches loaded with northern tourists, running an hour late, was prevented from plunging over the trestle into the river only through the alertness of Engineer Hicks.

HARDING WILL ENTER IN HIGH MASONRY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 5.—Taking a respite from the wearying conferences with "the best minds" of the nation, President-elect Harding today motored to Columbus, where he will be initiated into the mysteries of higher Masonry. Harding will take the Scottish Rite degrees during the day and tonight, after a banquet, he will be initiated into the thirty-second degree.

HEAVY DAMAGE TO PRUNES IS DONE BY FIRE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN JOSE, Cal., Jan. 5.—A fire of unknown origin on the San Filippo ranch, near Campbell, several miles west of San Jose, early today destroyed prunes valued at $100,000 and a dryer and warehouse worth more than $7000. The crop was heavily insured.

MAY NOT OFFICIALLY RECEIVE CROWDER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

HAVANA, Jan. 5.—General Enoch Crowder may not be received officially by President Menocal, according to the newspaper La Noche, because the Cuban government was not advised through the customary diplomatic channels of the general's mission.

GAG EMPLOYEES AND ESCAPE WITH LOOT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Four bandits held up the Nathan Swartz Loan Bank today, bound and gagged Swartz and two employees, and escaped with $15,000 in money and jewels. Hundreds of persons passed the bank while the robbery occurred.

GIVE MONEY FOR INAUGURATION CEREMONY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The senate today adopted the Knox resolution appropriating $50,000 for the expenses of the official ceremonies at the capitol incident to the Harding inauguration.

READING CIRCLE

MEETINGS ARE RESUMED BY ORGANIZATION AT HOME OF MRS. HARTLEY SHAW

The Mothers' Reading circle resumed its meetings today at the home of Mrs. Hartley Shaw, 212 West Park avenue. Articles from the American Mothers' Magazine were read and discussed by the ladies, and the session was an interesting and profitable one.

Membership in this reading circle is open to any mother wishing to join. Its sessions are always held at Mrs. Shaw's home, from eleven to two. Ladies attending bring their lunches and tea is served by the hostess.

ENTERTAINS CLUB

MRS. J. H. MURPHY IS HOSTESS AT CARD PARTY; DANCING IS ALSO FEATURED

Mrs. J. H. Murphy, 117 East Acacia avenue, entertained the members of the Sixteen club of Los Angeles and their husbands at a card party last evening. About thirty were present. A midnight supper was served, after which the floors were cleared for dancing, which lasted until 2 o'clock this morning. Each guest brought a present, which was put into a large grab-bag. The dining room was decorated with smilax and roses, and the living room in pepper boughs and marigolds.

SCHEDULE BONDS READY FOR SALE

GLENDALE SECURITIES TO BE TURNED OVER TO PAY FOR WATER IMPROVEMENTS

LIST IS MADE UP

APPROVAL IS GIVEN LIST AS SUBMITTED TO TRUSTEES BY CITY MANAGER

Sale of sufficient bonds of the $260,000 issue to cover the cost of the proposed improvements to the water system of Glendale is being arranged for by the board of city trustees.

The city manager's department has devised a schedule by which the bonds may be set aside in blocks to meet the cost of the proposed improvements, according to the following communication addressed to the city trustees:

"The action of your board at last meeting authorizing the clerk to advertise for bids to be opened at 8 o'clock, January 13, for certain improvements to the water system, the estimated cost of which is $131,795, will necessitate some action providing for the sale of sufficient funds of the $260,000 issue to cover the cost thereof. To that end we suggest that the following bonds of this issue be appropriated to the several items respectively and that notice be given that before the city will be in position to enter into contracts for any of such improvements such bonds must be sold:

"East Broadway pipe line extension—estimated cost $2765; bonds appropriated, $2000; bonds 115 and 116 due March 1, 1939.

"Mariposa street and Acacia Ave. pipe line extension—estimated cost, $5210; bonds appropriated, $4,000; bonds 117, 118, 119 and 120 due March 1, 1939.

Costs and Appropriations

"Vine avenue pipe line extension, pumping plant and reservoir—estimated cost, $17,700; bonds appropriated, $20,000; bonds 121 to 130, $10,000, due March 1, 1940 and 131 to 140, $10,000, due March 1, 1941.

"Glendale avenue pipe line—estimated cost, $46,550; bonds appropriated, $55,000; bonds 141 to 150, $10,000, due March 1, 1943; 151 to 160, $10,000, due March 1, 1943; 161 to 170, $10,000, due March 1, 1944; 171 to 180, $10,000, due March 1, 1945; 181 to 190, $10,000, due March 1, 1946; 191 to 195, $5,000, due March 1, 1947.

"Verdugo reservoir—Estimated cost, $59,570; bonds appropriated, $65,000; bonds 196 to 200, $5000, due March 1, 1947; 201 to 210, $10,000, due March 1, 1948; 211 to 220, $10,000, due March 1, 1949; 221 to 230, $10,000, due March 1, 1950; 231 to 240, $10,000, due March 1, 1951; 241 to 250, $10,000, due March 1, 1952; 251 to 260, $10,000, due March 1, 1953."

The plan was declared valid by W. E. Evans just before he turned the office of city attorney over to Hartley Shaw and the schedule will be carried out as arranged.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

DYNAMOS CLASS ENTERTAINS AT STRICKLAND HOME IN BEHALF OF YOUTHS

Twenty-five members of the Dynamos class of the Presbyterian church, accompanied by an orchestra, visited the Strickland home at Eagle Rock on January 2 for the purpose of giving a musical program to the boys in the institution.

Residents of the home range from 8 to 11 years of age and, under the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles courts, receive a training that will, it is expected, make them into fine citizens.

The Dynamos class presented a pleasing program, greatly to the delight of the boys. The class membership is growing fast, new members coming in every Sunday, it is stated.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Boring of Kansas City, Mo., who arrived in Glendale in August and located at 420 West Maple street, have as their house guests this week Mr. and Mrs. John Marty of Kansas City. Mr. and Mrs. Marty are spending the winter at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mullen of 305 North Central avenue spent several days in Los Angeles and Hollywood during the New Year's visiting relatives and friends. They visited with Mr. Mullen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Knudson of Los Angeles. On Friday night they were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Mullen's sister and the latter's husband, Hugh Cameron. On Saturday night they were party guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Kilburn Holden in Hollywood.

Alfred Cookman, instructor at Glendale union high school, returned yesterday with his bride from the East.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Orth and daughters of 153 South Central avenue had as their dinner guests on New Year's day, J. A. Gibson, a well-known business man of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. Gibson. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson are guests for a few weeks of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Graham of West Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Turck, 1013 South Glendale avenue, and their little granddaughter, Margot Buxton, spent the Christmas holidays at the Virginia hotel in Long Beach, returning to Glendale Sunday. They then left on a trip to Modjeska's home in San Juan Capistrano, from which they have just returned.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tanner, 400 North Louise street, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Van Housen, 1320 North Maryland avenue, New Year's day. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Redmond and son, William, of 331 West Harvard street. The party motored to Pasadena in the morning.

Chas. W. Kirk, secretary of the Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce, and Miss MacConnan, also of that city, motored to Glendale Friday and were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hyde Braly, 505 North Brand boulevard. They attended the Tournament of Roses parade and the football game at Pasadena on New Year's day.

H. A. Matthiesen of 525 South Adams street, accompanied by his brother, H. H. Matthiesen of Hollywood, motored to Fresno last Thursday and spent New Year's with their mother and sister, Mrs. F. V. Matthiesen and Miss Ruth Matthiesen, both of whom lived in Glendale for a number of years. They returned Sunday evening.

J. O. Corliss, who recently purchased a lot on North Verdugo, has just let the contract for a home to be constructed there. The number of the house will be 235. The house will contain five rooms. The contractors are Brown & Lanphear. The lot is 47 by 150 and application for a water connection has been filed with the city service department.

Mrs. S. Marcus of Kew Gardens, New York, spent the week-end with her friend, Mrs. C. J. Higgins, of 247 North Jackson street. She returned to her Eastern home on Monday. Mrs. Marcus was so charmed with Glendale that she says she is only returning to New York in order to persuade her husband to come to this city to live here permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Walter, 130 Arden avenue, will have as their dinner guests this evening Mr. Walter's sister, Mrs. Fred Fichter, and her son and daughter from Philadelphia. They are stopping at the Alexandria hotel so as to be centrally located while looking around to purchase a home. They are greatly impressed with Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter are hoping that Glendale will be their choice.

Assistant Is Secured

The Pulliam & Kiefer Undertaking company, 305 East Broadway, are so fortunate as to have secured the services of Mrs. Nina Brackney as their lady assistant. Mrs. Brackney is a valuable asset to the establishment. To begin with, she is a graduate nurse and will go out on all ambulance calls to render first aid. Besides serving in this important capacity, she will also take charge of all cases of women and children at whose obsequies Pulliam & Kiefer officiate.

Mrs. Brackney is an Eastern lady of wide experience in her work. She has lived for a year in Los Angeles, and has been a resident of Glendale for the past six months.

Attend Lecture Tonight

Men and women who are interested in automobiles should not fail to attend the lecture and demonstration tonight at 8 o'clock at the salesroom of Tanner & Hall, 237 South Brand boulevard. You can learn many valuable facts at this series of lectures that will prove of incalculable value to you in the care of your machine. This knowledge will save you lots of money as well as annoyance.

Starts New Building

Melkan L. Ogassian has commenced the erection of a building at 301 South Glendale avenue for a grocery and market.

WOULD "DRY UP" EMBASSIES

WASHINGTON—A bill to prevent the use of liquor by American diplomats and consular agents abroad and forbid them even to attend banquets, dinners or other functions where liquor is served, has been introduced in the house by Representatives Upshaw of Georgia, lecturer for the Anti-Saloon league, and director in the international reform bureau.

Representative Upshaw said the bill had the indorsement of the Anti-Saloon league. The bill provides a penalty for violation of any of its sections. It was referred to the judiciary committee, which wrote and reported out the Volstead law.

Judging from the fuss that is being made, there are a lot of folks who did not want to be emancipatd from the demon rum.

The man who lives up to his own specifications will probably be reasonably busy.

CHURCH INCREASE

FIRST METHODIST GREETS 15 SUNDAY MAKING TOTAL 91 IN LESS THAN 3 MONTHS

Dr. Clyde Monroe Crist, of the First Methodist church, preached a New Year's sermon Sunday morning to a large and appreciative audience. Preceding the sermon there was the reception of members, fifteen joining the church. This makes a total of ninety-one in less than three months.

Dr. Crist's text was Col. 3:17, "And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus."

"The ever recurring question," said Dr. Crist, "is this: Is life worth while? Two replies are given, the one the antipodes of the other, depending upon one's perspective. One's ability or lack of ability to conceive in right proportions determines the way in which he replies.

"The Christian declares that life is worth while because, in his thinking, he gives proper content to life itself, and sees beyond this limited existence the glorious consummation of it all.

"There are," said the preacher, "some kinds of life that are not worth the living. The life that limits itself to the accumulation of wealth is a failure. Death comes too soon and all must be left. The life spent in seeking pleasure is not a success. One too soon loses his capacity for enjoyment. Any selfish life is not worth the living. It is a case of wrong perspective. Things are not in right proportion for a harmonious whole.

Confronted by Big Question

"The question that confronts us this morning," said Mr. Crist, "is this: Have we been living the big unlimited and indefinitely expanding life during the year just passed, or have we been content with the small and circumscribed life of selfishness? Has it been the big life with the glory of God in mind, or has it been the small life with the thought of self? The answer must be left to the individual.

"If our conception is that of a Christ-centered life, we still have the question, why is it worth while? In answering this let us say first, that it would be worth while if it is regarded merely as discipline. Whatever may be our philosophy of existence, discipline enters into it as a fundamental. Every pain or sorrow, every hardship or defeat, every trying circumstance of the past year 'worketh out for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory.'

"We are forced logically to the conclusion that this is the best possible world that the good Almighty God could have created for the formation of character. The most sturdy pines are those that grow on the Norwegian mountains where they lock arms with every wind that blows. Life is worth while if it were merely discipline.

"The Christian avers that life is worth the living if it be considered as service. As long as any one needs you, your life is worth while. The philosophy back of the life of service is very beautiful. It is this: As we help others we contribute to our own best good. 'He that seeketh his life shall lose it, but he that loseth his life shall find it.' Self is made better by every act of service to God or man.

"But life is not only discipline and service; it is eternal, and therefore it is worth while. It is not, after all, so much what we do as it is what we become in the doing. What we become lasts forever. The continuity of life is a fundamental conception. Because we are making what is to be, and to be forever, life is worth while and the text gives us the sufficient motto: 'Whatsoever ye do in word or deed do all in the name of the Lord Jesus.'"

CAMPAIGN AGAINST CRIMINALS

Reports from many cities throughout the United States are that the police authorities are engaged in a crusade against criminals and organized vice, with particular attention to the violators of the national prohibition amendment.

No doubt these activities against violators of the laws are needed and the zeal shown by the law-enforcement officials is altogether commendable, but one is led to wonder why conditions should be permitted to reach their present degree of undesirability. There is the example of the person who would exercise for the improvement of his health. One hour a week in the gymnasium or walking on the highways will not secure the results desired, no matter how enthusiastically undertaken. It is the regular, persistent effort that counts.

The same rule applies to enforcement of the law against such violations as are daily occurrences, selling liquor, gambling and other vices carried on for profit. These violations could better be prevented by strict surveillance than by spasmodic efforts at reform. Nobody expects the authorities to prevent all violations or arrest all persons who do criminal acts. It should be possible for police to know their city so well that they need no crusade to drive out persons who are violators of the laws.

Ireland does not seem to be a very promising field for insurance agents just now.

A man may be a friend to his old hat, but it is not the nature of woman to be that way.

Help for Women
"Glendale women should appreciate that they have a laundry where they can send their choice garments and table linen, where their clothes are washed in soft water with pure soap in scrupulously clean surroundings, and dried in rooms where the sun and air has access." FOR DISCIPLINE IN CABINET

CHICAGO—Army discipline in the cabinet to be chosen by President-elect Harding, with "dishonorable discharge for any member who does not co-ordinate with the president," was urged in an address by Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes.

"The duplication of methods that prevail in the present cabinet thus would be avoided, and there would be no more of the present slipshod methods," said General Dawes.

The aliens who are coming to this country should be given mental tests for signs of red.

LANSING, Mich. — Michigan is "wetter" now than it has been at any time since prohibition went into effect, says Fred D. Woodworth, commissioner of the State Food and Drug department, charged with the enforcement of the dry law for the state. The condition of which Woodworth complains is due, he says, to a direct leak from the bonded warehouses to bootleggers. This leak, he says, has been very pronounced in the large cities.

Any careless driver will tell you that he runs a lot of risks from others on the streets.

BUREAU NEEDS AID

INFORMATION DEPARTMENT OF REALTY BOARD TO CLOSE UNLESS GIVEN HELP

Owing to the lack of finances, the information bureau established in the First National bank building by the Glendale Realty board will be suspended, it is announced by E. P. Hayward, secretary of the board.

Miss Hattie Halvorson has been in charge of the information bureau and, in the past two months, has given out to tourists and others a great deal of matter concerning Glendale, as well as assisting a number of people to become residents of the city.

"The Glendale Realty board has not the money in its treasury to further finance the bureau, much as the information department is needed," said Secretary Hayward, "hence we are forced to close it unless some of the public-spirited citizens give us aid.

"Miss Halvorson has given out a great deal of information about Glendale to visitors, has answered numerous questions, has placed people in homes and has distributed literature regarding the city. The realty organization, however, has reached the point where it is unable to finance the bureau further. Therefore, unless we receive financial aid, it will be suspended."

WAR ON GIRL STUDENTS

LONDON, England—There is domestic strife in the University college hospital. The men have made a campaign urging the exclusion of the women from hospitals. The women, however, will organize a purely feminine meeting, at which the most effective "reprisals" will be discussed. The men say many patients do not want to be treated by females.

PREFERS U. S. TO THRONE

NEW YORK—Don Youis de Bourbon, who claims to be a son by a morganatic marriage of King Alphonso XII. of Spain, would rather be known as a successful American citizen than a claimant of the throne, according to his friends. He has been living quietly for four years and hopes to make his way in the world by writing fiction.

More important than finding the "missing link" is the business of keeping folks from making monkeys of themselves.

OUR SCHOOLS AND OUR CHILDREN

"Come, let us live with our children."
—FROEBEL.

No one who listened to the reading lesson of the B class in the fourth grade room of the Colorado school Tuesday afternoon could doubt what a few rare souls like Lewis Carrol and Frank Stockton and Mary L. Burt always knew: that most children have a keen sense of humor.

These young people read a delightful nonsense poem of Edward Lear's with true feeling for the rhythm and with intelligent expression, as well as a decided relish for the fun in it and an appreciation of its utter absurdity.

And the cherishing and fostering of this sense of humor in the child—it is to him like unto a shield when he goes out into the common strife of the work-a-day world, where oft times he will be buffeted and bruised and treated contumeliously in the struggle for existence, for mere bread. It is good therefore, to foster in him now the habit of laughter, of seeing the fun in life, for it makes for sanity, later on, when other influences work against the sane view; it makes for kindliness, too, for no one can see the funny side of any vextatious thing and at the same time harbor unkindly feelings—laughter and bitterness simply will not mix.

Now, the little Colorado street school children in the B fourth grade had no idea they were learning something like this. They just thought they were pronouncing the words right and stopping at the periods and pausing at the commas, and "putting 'x-pression into it," when they read. And it just happened to be a funny piece, and they laughed in polite, well-behaved fashion as they read each verse and enjoyed it.

True Missionary Spirit

But the teacher—she knew, for the teacher had lived in the world longer than they. And teachers know many, many things. They have the true missionary spirit, have the teachers. They go about, doing good—and most of us never realize what we owe them; and the few who do realize are like the nine who were healed, but did not come back to thank the Healer.

Then the B class studied geography, while the A class read. Their lesson was the story of Joseph—all about his coat of many colors which has father gave him because he was the baby of the family, and all about the envy of his brothers and how they sold him into slavery, and how, in the end, because he was good and tended to his business, he became at last the ruler of Egypt.

'Tis a fascinating tale; no movie thriller of today can hold a candle to it. The boys and girls of the A class read it intelligently and with a fine sense of its good points; and every one of them is the richer in mind and soul by the acquisition of at least one of the fine old stories of the Bible, stories that even taken only as literature cannot be surpassed either as examples of literary art or as tales that teach without preaching.

Not One Laggard There

The spirit of the 4th grade room in the Colorado street school in both A and B classes is a thing that is good to see. There is not a laggard in the room; every child is alert and interested—so there is apparently no question of discipline; when one is interested, really, voluntarily interested, one does not think of doing wrong things. One simply hasn't the time; one's work is so absorbing.

Yesterday morning, during the writing lesson, the teacher of the fourth grade, Miss Dorothy Hunt, was illustrating the position in which the pen should be held. She didn't "watch her step" and had the misfortune to strike her knee against a seat. It was hurt rather seriously—the knee, not the seat—and so she had to retire to the rest room for a few minutes. You might think that little children would take this opportunity to do a bit of skylarking, some little children might; but the Colorado school fourth grade did not. When Miss Hunt came back every one of them was in his chair, tending to his own work; no doubt they were sorry Miss Hunt hurt herself, and would be ashamed to cause her worry by being disorderly.

SOLDIER WRITES

PRIVATE RAY FRANKLIN, WELL KNOWN HERE, TELLS ABOUT ARMY EXPERIENCES

A letter has been received by the editor of The Glendale Evening News from Private Ray Franklin, who is now stationed at Fort Mills in the Philippine Islands, telling of his experiences while in the army. Private Franklin has many friends in this city who will be interested to hear about him. The letter is as follows:

Fort Mills,
Philippine Islands,
Nov. 30, 1920.

Editor Glendale Evening News:—As I have many friends in Glendale I am writing a little story of the army. I left San Francisco August 15, 1919, on the U. S. A. T. Logan for Vladivostok, Siberia. After being there several days the company which I was with was moved by train for Beresovka, Siberia, 1800 miles inland.

After spending most of the cold winter in drilling, orders were received from the commanding officer, Colonel Morrows, of the 27th Infantry to pack up and get ready to move, as plans were for capturing a town twenty miles away which was being held by the Bolshevik troops. Three half-companies of soldiers, Company I, Company L and also a part of a machine gun company, left at 6:30 in the morning and arrived at the town about 4:30 in the afternoon.

Russians Throw Down Guns

Orders were given to place the machine gun company at the front of the town, so that the guns would cover the advancing troops. But, when the Russians saw us, they threw down their guns and surrendered the town without a shot being fired. Outposts were placed to guard against a surprise, but nothing happened. At 9:30 the next morning we started back to camp. It was some hike, especially as we wore sheepskin overcoats, fur caps and gloves, overshoes three sizes too large and four pairs of socks. When we arrived at camp we were weary and footsore and angry for not having had a fight.

The company stayed in Beresovka until December 27, 1919, when we left for Vladivostok and took the U. S. A. T. Thomas for the Philippine Islands, arriving there March 17, 1920. We were then transferred to the Coast Artillery. I like the artillery much better than the infantry. The Philippine Islands seem to be a fine healthy place for a young soldier to stay. The climate is about the same as that of California.

You may publish this letter if you choose, as I have many friends in Glendale who might be interested to learn about me.

I remain yours truly,
PRIVATE RAY FRANKLIN,
8th Co., C. A. C.,
Fort Mills, Philippine Islands.

NEED TEACHERS

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS ASKING AMERICAN INSTRUCTORS BE LEADERS IN PROJECT

An appeal has been made to President David P. Barrows of the University of California to aid the American educational system in the Philippine Islands by calling upon American teachers to be leaders in the Philippine schools, by the federal bureau of insular affairs at Washington through the Philippine educational agent, W. W. Marquardt.

One hundred new American teachers are needed for the next year, Mr. Marquardt writes to President Barrows, "men and women who will represent the highest of your institution's ideas and who will serve as America's representatives in the Far East."

Declaring that the Filipino people have made more progress under 20 years of American government than in three centuries under Spanish tutelage, Mr. Marquardt states that there are 17,000 Filipino teachers and 400 American teachers. He adds:

"There are 840,000 pupils in the Philippine schools, comprising probably the largest single school system under the American flag. English is the medium of instruction throughout all the grades. No effort is being made to make Americans out of the Filipino pupils. Every possible effort is made to make better Filipinos out of them. It is the greatest colonial educational experiment in the world. The success achieved has been due to American spirit of service combined with whole-hearted Filipino support.

Good Field For Service.

"A missionary spirit in the broadest interpretation of the word and not in a narrow sectarian view is needed. There is not to be found a nobler field of service or better opportunity of acquiring the broadening influence of several years' residence in the Orient than in the Philippine teaching service. No foreign language must be learned before effective work can be done. Every bit of well directed effort as immediate influence in the upbuilding of a people that our country has pledged itself to prepare for self-government as rapidly as possible."

City Manager and Ex-Officio Street Superintendent of the City of Glendale. 100t10

FUND FOR FLOAT

PEOPLE WILL SEE TO IT NO BILL REMAINS UNPAID ON PRIZE WINNER

Los Angeles markets in search of flowers. Other cities were doing the same, because of the great shortage of flowers this season. The result was that Glendale, by active work, and many automobile trips, got the best of the flowers, but the cost, the committee announced last night, was about $995.

The various other materials entering into the float's construction, including lumber, moss, wire and cheese cloth, also what labor that was not donated, brought—or will bring—bills estimated at about $500. So, with the amount of money subscribed by the people of the city totaling a little more than $1,000, the committee faces a deficit of about $450, it was estimated last night.

There is, the committee points out, but one thing to do. That is, to give the public the opportunity to make up the $450 necessary to meet all obligations and place Glendale's prize-winning float in history free from debt.

It's Up to All Citizens

Therefore, as the committee views it, it is up to all the people of Glendale to do his or her bit to clear the float of any indebtedness. This can be done very easily if those who did not subscribe—and there are many of them—will come forward at once and give what they can. Already some of those who gave to the fund have announced they will increase their subscriptions. In this way the $450 estimated as needed will be easily and quickly secured.

As The Evening News aided in raising the original fund, this paper offers its columns to the committee to assist in clearing away the deficit. New subscriptions to the float fund will be received at this office, also the checks of those who desire to raise their original subscriptions.

It is generally admitted that the originality of design and the profusion of flowers won first prize for Glendale and, in view of all the circumstances, the committee feels it did the proper thing to carry out the original plans even though there was a shortage of flowers and other cities were bidding for those available.

As an instance of how the flowers' committee secured roses when others failed, the committee last night stated that members visited certain big florists and, by various arguments, caused them to reduce the number of roses promised to others and sell them to Glendale. Some of the magnificent flowers on the Glendale float cost 30 cents each. But they helped to win first prize.

Other cities, despairing of securing flowers, used artificial colors with the result that they were placed far to the rear in the prize-winning class.

Certain cities spent from $2,000 to $3,000 on their floats. Yet they did not have the flowers that caught the eyes of the judges. So the committee feels that in expending about $450 more than the amount subscribed by the people of Glendale and by doing so carrying out the original plans and producing a first-prize winner for the second year in succession, the public will at once clear away the deficit.

The committee last night voted to extend its thanks to the Elks who aided in guiding the float in the parade and also to The Evening News for publicity donated.

Those present at the committee meeting last night were R. F. Kitterman, V. M. Hollister, L. W. Chobe, Mrs. L. W. Chobe, Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. Mabel Tight, L. T. Rowley and J. G. Huntley.

New subscriptions received at this office to the float fund will be acknowledged in these columns, as will additional subscriptions from those who have already given and who will give again.

MARINE RECORD

SOLDIERS OF SEA SET NEW MARK FOR ENLISTMENTS DURING NOVEMBER

November recruiting figures for the marine corps show that the seasoldiers in November exceeded by a comfortable margin their record for any month prior or subsequent to the world war. Not only did November lead in enlistments over the two prior lively recruiting months, but also in actual gain the figures leaped upwards.

The desertions decreased materially and discharges for all other reasons fell well below those of September and October.

One-third of the total 1760 enlistments for November was in re-enlistments from the three regular branches. The total strength of the corps December 1 was 19,798, and at the present rate of enlistments the authorized strength of 27,400 will be reached before summer.

The factor of unemployment, negligible until October, showed an appreciable increase in November, but was less noticeable in the middle west than in other sections of the country.

WEST GLENDALE LEAGUE PLANS TO MAKE BIG PROTEST AT SESSION OF TRUSTEES

work, as outlined in a communication which was published in The Evening News last night over his signature. He stated he did not pretend his figures were accurate. They were, he declared, only given to show that the final bills for the work will be much higher than is being stated by those favoring the improvement.

Frank Booth declared that instead of the work costing about $15 a lot, as claimed, the cost, when completed, would be nearer $75 a lot.

Mr. MacMillan asserted that the committee recommended two moves. One was the employment of an attorney to take legal action if the ordinance is passed; the other, for property owners in the district to appear at the trustees' meeting and protest the passage of the ordinance.

On motion of T. M. Barrett, a committee of five was appointed to secure an attorney, as recommended by the investigating committee, to be known as an executive committee, made up as follows: J. Mac MacMillan, A. H. Lapham, Eugene Wilson, Mrs. E. A. Peters and T. M. Barnett.

Protestants To Attend Meeting

Further discussion resulted in the decision to make a final appeal to the trustees to not pass the ordinance and it was voted that the members of the league—and all others in the proposed district not in favor of the street opening—should attend the meeting of the trustees next Thursday night and attempt to show that the majority of the property owners in the district do not want the work done as proposed.

The petition of the business men favoring the improvement was also considered at last night's meeting and Mr. MacMillan stated that, so far as he has been able to check up the petition, at least twenty-two names on it were of those not owning property in the business section; they were renters, he said.

As a result, Mrs. W. L. Colton was named chairman of a committee to visit the business men who had signed the favorable petition and learn, if possible, if any have since changed their views. She was authorized to select her own assistants. This committee is expected to canvass the signers of the favorable petition between now and Thursday night.

Speakers last night took the view that the business men should consider the trade of 1,500 or more residents in the proposed district, as well as the trade expected to result if Commercial street is opened up and increased traffic diverted from the San Fernando road.

Mr. MacMillan also announced that a check of the favorable petition with the petition presented by the protestants and which was ruled out by the trustees showed several duplications of names—that some people had, he said, signed a petition for and a petition against the work.

No Petition To Be Presented

It was decided last night not to file a petition of protest with the trustees, the view taken being that a petition does not have the weight of a personal appearance before the board. Therefore, it was decided, the members of the league—and all others in the proposed district who are not in favor of the proposed work—shall appear before the trustees in a body next Thursday night when the ordinance comes up for adoption.

It was the opinion of a number of those present that if the trustees personally see and hear the property owners opposed to the street opening, the ordinance will not be adopted Thursday night.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the executive committee, after the mmbers present, by standing vote, had decided to personally appear at the trustees' meeting and to bring others with them.

PROPOSES MEETING

CITY MANAGER TO ARRANGE FOR GATHERING OF GRAND VIEW RESIDENTS SOON

of that district for annexation was to obtain the extension thereto of municipal water and light service as well as to obtain other service usually rendered by a muncipality. During this period when the legality of the annexation proceedings was questioned no action could be taken by the city toward extending the water and light system to the district. Now that these questions have all been settled, the people are inquiring as to what may be done to obtain extension of city utilities to the district.

Commercial and Street Lights

"The recent action of your board authorizing the purchase of the electric distribution system owned by the city of Burbank within the district will enable the lighting department to furnish commercial and street lighting in a portion of the district. Street lights have been installed on Sixth street within the last few days. With the co-operation of the property holders who may desire extensions of the electric service to new subdivisions, it is probable that the electric distribution system can be gradually extended to the entire district and the expense thereof met out of the revenues of the lighting business.

"The extension of the water distributing system to the district will require a larger expenditure than can be supplied out of the revenues of the water business and it will require that some plan of local assessment or taxation be effected in order to finance these extensions.

"We would therefore respectfully request authorization to call a meeting in the district of residents and property holders thereof to discuss plans and ways and means for the extension of the water distributing system therein and also to discuss any other matters of interest affecting the service that may be rendered by the city within the district."

CANAL EARNINGS

OVER TWO MILLIONS PROFIT IS SHOWN; PAST DEFICITS ARE NOW REDUCED

In the last fiscal year the Panama canal earned $2,387,599 more than the cost of operation. This amount stands as a profit for the period, though it cannot properly be regarded as such since it allows nothing for interest on investment, depreciation and other charges which careful business management insists upon. The agreeable fact is, however, that this year was the best in the history of the canal and the excess of earnings has reduced the operating deficit for the six years of its life to $2,231,091. All of which warrants Brigadier General Chester Harding, governor of the Panama canal zone, in predicting that within a reasonable period of normal world conditions it will earn an actual profit on its cost.

A business-like people will not be satisfied with results until the canal has been made self-sustaining. In the meantime, however, it is gratifying that the wisdom of the enterprise is being increasingly demonstrated. The value of the canal to American business, especially in enlarged intercourse between this country and the Orient and the west coast of South Africa, is incalculable. And there is reason to believe it will grow until the capacity of the canal is taxed.

But as its use increases and revenues mount there will be necessity for greater investment to keep auxiliary service at balance with demands. Some of these also will yield profits, so that America will not be out of pocket on account of them. We may go forward confidently expanding the services of the canal as necessity requires. It has in a short half a dozen years become a great national asset and its best years are those to come.

FINANCIAL REPORT

COUNTY BONDED INDEBTEDNESS OVER $74,000,000, REPORT BY AUDITOR SHOWS

H. A. Payne, county auditor, has reported to Jonathan S. Dodge, member of the board of supervisors from the district of which Glendale is a part, that the county's bonded indebtedness is $74,463,837.18. The compilation shows the county's bonded indebtedness as follows:

General county highway, $2,901,000; flood control district, $2,825,375; road district improvement, $935,829.45; drainage district, $230,431.10; water works district, $41,000; elementary school district, $9,145,180; high school district, $5,536,500; municipalities other than Los Angeles, $10,659,684.13, and Los Angeles city, $42,188,837.50—a grand total of $74,463,837.18.

JUVENILE BOOKS

NUMBER OF NEW VOLUMES ARE RELEASED; DEPOSIT IS NOT REQUIRED UPON THEM

A number of new juvenile books have just been released at the Glendale library, some of which are given herewith. It is stated that children wishing to reserve any of the new books after being released are not required to make a deposit as are the older folk. A partial list of the new releases for children follows:

"The Slipper Point Mystery," by Augusta Huiell Seaman.

"Prudence of the Parsonage," by Ethel Hueston.

"Eve to the Rescue," by Ethel Hueston.

"Prudence Says So," by Ethel Hueston.

"Nancy Goes to Town," by Sterrett.

"The Gold Hunters," by Curwood. A sequel to "The Wolf Hunters."

"Gypsy Ginger," by Eleanor Farjeon.

FINED FOR WEARING DISGUISE

NEW YORK—Mrs. Gertrude Capan, twenty-two years old, was fined $1 when she admitted to Magistrate Robert C. Ten Eyck in Essex Market court that she had put on boys' knickerbockers, a white shirt and a wide collar and a mackinaw as a disguise to trail her husband.

The costume of Mrs. Capan attracted the attention of a detective. The knickers, ending at the knee, revealed far too shapely a calf for a youth, the detective decided, and she was arrested.

In court Mrs. Capan said her husband had left the house with an air of mystery, and she had determined to follow him. Magistrate Ten Eyck sent her home in a taxi to change her clothes as one of the conditions of the sentence.

PARK MANY CARS

JUST 185 MACHINES COUNTED WITHIN FOUR BLOCKS IN BUSINESS SECTION

Exactly 185 automobiles were parked on the four blocks extending from Brand boulevard and Broadway at 5 o'clock last Friday night, by actual count.

On the east side of Brand, from Wilson to Broadway, there were forty-three cars. On the north side of Broadway, Brand to Maryland, there were seven cars. Incidentally—and not figured in the total—there were twenty-six cars parked on Maryland, off Broadway.

On the south side of Broadway, Brand to Maryland, there were twelve cars. On the west side of Brand, Wilson to Broadway, there were thirty-six machines.

There were, on the north side of Broadway, Brand to Orange, twelve automobiles, while on the south side of the same street there were thirteen.

On the west side of Brand, Broadway to Harvard, there were forty-one, while on the east side of Brand, Broadway to Harvard, twenty-one were counted.

Thus a total of 185 cars, not including those parked on Maryland off Broadway, was counted. One hundred and eighty-five automobiles "is a whole lot of cars." Practically every make was represented—from the most inexpensive to the car of special design.

The number of machines parked on the streets was just another bit of evidence of Glendale's remarkable growth and an indication of the prosperity of its citizens and visitors, for, of course, some of the cars were those of tourists, as the "flags" showed.

FOR OLD PEOPLE

JUNIOR LEAGUE OF METHODIST CHURCH TO BE HOST ON NIGHT OF JANUARY 7

The Junior league of the Central Avenue Methodist Episcopal church is completing plans for its annual elderly people's party, to be held on January 7 at 7 o'clock in the social hall of the church, corner Central and Palmer avenues.

Those who are 60 years of age or over are invited to be the guests of the league and a good time is assured to all by the committee in charge of the annual event.

Anyone 60 years of age or over desiring to attend and unable to find a means of being conveyed to the social hall, is invited to telephone Glendale 569-W and arrangements will be made to have an automobile call.

The party is a yearly event for the Junior league and in the past pleasant times have been provided for elderly folk. This year unusual efforts are being made to make the affair a complete success and a most enjoyable one for those of 60 or more.

The country needs more persons who can be depended on to go fifty-fifty without giving bond.

BUSINESS GROWING

MR. KELLEY TO DEVOTE TIME TO NURSERY; J. T. ALLEN IN FLORAL DEPARTMENT

The business of the Glendale Plant & Floral company has grown to such an extent that Mr. Kelley finds it necessary to devote all of his time to the nursery and has turned over the floral department to J. T. Allen, a young man of much experience in that work who has been with Mr. Kelley for the past year. Mr. Allen will be assisted in the flower shop by his wife.

Mr. Kelley states that inquiries indicate that there will be a great demand for nursery stock this spring. There is so much building in progress and greater attention is being given, he says, to laying out attractive grounds on small lots as well as beautifying the surroundings of larger homes. Mr. Kelley will, of course, carry stocks to meet this increased demand. He speaks very highly of Mr. Allen as a man and an experienced florist and he feels that the new arrangement will make for greater efficiency and better service to the patrons of the Glendale Plant & Floral company.

FALSE TEETH CAUSE ILLNESS

CONSTANTINOPLE—Turkey's 146 year old man, Zora Mehmed, reputed to be the oldest man in the world, has been ill for some time with indigestion. This was the first time Zora had ever been ill. He complained that it was because of a set of false teeth.

Zora has always been a hamal, that is, a carrier of heavy weights, ranging from 200 to 1000 pounds. When he was forty-five years of age, during the Napoleonic wars, he tried to lift, on a bet, 500 pounds with his teeth and ruined them. He went until about 1850 without any teeth, and then he obtained a set which wore out about twenty years ago. He got another set. He declared these teeth gave him indigestion, which finally landed him in the hospital.

"When I get a new set of teeth, I shall be all right again for another half a century," he said.

Until his present illness, Zora was employed, as a hamal, at the Turkish naval base. He was born at Bitlis, in Turkish Armenia, in the year 1774—just before the American revolution, but does not remember that event. Zora has a son, aged ninety, and a young daughter aged fifty. His heart and eyes are still good and he looks like a man of seventy. He offered his passport as proof of his age, as well as the birth records in the mosque at Bitlis.

BONDS APPROVED

LOCAL MEN ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR PROCEEDINGS; PASSED UPON BY COMMISSION

The State Irrigation Bond commission, located at San Francisco, yesterday approved the bond issue of $230,000 for the Beaumont irrigation district, where are many very productive apple, pear and cherry orchards in the uplands and cotton and onion fields in the lower lands. This bond issue will mean much for the residents of the district, some of whom are former Glendale citizens. W. E. Evans as attorney and Harry B. Lynch as engineer for the district, conducted the proceedings.

PARIS DIVORCES CURBED

PARIS—The house shortage has at least one advantage, the Journal says—it has reduced the number of divorces. The paper points out that many who a couple of years ago would not have hesitated to seek judicial relief from an erring spouse or faithless husband, now think twice before breaking up a cozy, if not peaceful, home to join the legion of flat hunters.
